Compare prices and costs

Merchants talk about prices

EDITOR'S NOTE: In an effort to make some sense out of widespread price increases, Upland News-Cucamonga Times reporter Lynne Locke interviewed an Alta Loma baker, a Montclair furniture official, a Montclair furniture and appliance salesman, an Upland shoe repairer and a Cucamonga flower-gift shop owner. These merchants compared prices they pay for merchandise with the prices they charge their customers.

By LYNNE LOCKE
Some West End merchants see signs that high prices are tapering off, but others say it will be a while longer before inflation is solved.

Conditions in the bakery business are improving, according to Michael Palombo, who said sugar and shortening prices have dropped. Palombo and his wife Bernadette own Dolly's Donuts and recently opened The Bakery, both in Alta Loma.

Costs for all raw materials have increased, Palombo said. Sugar has quadrupled in price from $11.75 per 100 pounds in January 1974 to $49.61. Flour and raisins doubled in price, and shortening, cinnamon and pecans tripled, he noted.

Palombo didn't raise his product prices over the last five months. If product prices kept up with raw material costs, the bakery would lose business, Palombo explained.

The Bakery's profit margin dropped from 20 per cent to 8 per cent because prices didn't rise with costs. To keep prices down the Palombos doubled their working hours to 16 hours a day instead of hiring extra clerical or packing labor. They also turn on pilot lights only when the ovens are in use. They removed half the ceiling lights.

One cost-cutting measure has actually improved the flavor of the donuts, Palombo said. He "recycles" stale donuts by soaking them in water for 24-48 hours, adding yeast and combining with fresh dough. The method cuts waste and increases the "sour" flavor prized in "old world" baking, he said.

The outlook on utility rates isn't as optimistic. The price of oil has leveled off and that is a good sign, according to Randy Bond, Upland city area manager for Southern California Edison Co.

Practically everything else is rising, he said. Edison's rates are regulated by the Public Utilities Commission (PUC), but most of Edison's costs aren't regulated.

Cable and wire have increased 20-120 per cent. Bond said the primary 12,000 volt cable into a tract of homes has increased 60 per cent over 18 months. Everything made from copper or an oil base has doubled in price during the last year, he added.

Labor costs have increased more gradually but have doubled in the last 10 years, he said. Environmental costs also are a factor. Bond said more than $1 million was spent on beautification of buildings and tower design at the Padua Substation.

The problem of rising costs and utility rates won't be solved until inflation is halted, Bond commented. Edison has taken several steps to hold rates down. Proposed construction has been postponed. He said the company is cutting labor costs by not replacing retiring employees. Field crews have been cut to four people, and office staff has been reduced, he said.

Edison has tried to maintain continuous service. Bond commented that with fewer employees and facilities, it may take longer to restore electricity in the future.

"There are no easy answers. It's a trade-off between one thing and another," he added.

Appliance prices have increased, but furniture prices have remained steady, according to a Montclair merchant who did not want to be identified.

Some appliances cost almost $200 more than last year, he said. Local merchants have more control over furniture prices and have kept them down, he added.

The merchant said there has been too much talk about high prices. "The news media are to blame for much of the problem," he added. He pointed out that major papers run lay-off stories on the front page and rehire stories on the inside business pages.

There's no hope of reducing shoe repair prices in the near future, according to Taz Cochrum, owner of Burge Shoe Repairs, Upland. Materials and machinery costs have all increased. Leather and rubber have risen at least 40 per cent. Even nails cost more, he noted.

Scarcity of materials is an increasing problem, Cochrum said. Russia is now competing with U. S. tanners for South American leather. He said wholesale houses have run out of cement used to attach soles.

Rising freight costs increase the shortages because manufacturers wait for a full shipment before sending orders, Cochrum noted. He has raised repair prices to meet rising costs, "but not as much as I should."

"Prices seem high to a customer, but I make a smaller percentage of profit than before," he said. Cochrum has as many customers as before inflation. Some used to bring in both shoes for repairs, but now they bring them one at a time, he said.

Except for roses, costs for cut flowers have remained essentially the same, Grace Brazell said. She and her husband Albert own Accent House of Flowers, Gifts and Antiques in Cucamonga.

Brazell remembers paying $6 for a dozen roses to give his foster mother 30 years ago. A dozen roses now cost $12.50, but that's not bad for 30 years, noted Mrs. Brazell.

Although flowers cost more just after holidays, their shop maintains the same price throughout the year, she said. Fluctuating costs aren't passed on to the customer unless the costs get "too outrageous," she added.

Wire and containers cost almost 30 per cent more than two years ago, but fresh flowers are still a good buy, Mrs. Brazell said.

Energy conservation program

Upland sends letter to President Ford

By LYNNE LOCKE
In response to Upland City Council action, City Manager Lee Travers has written a letter to President Gerald Ford expressing the city's concern about Ford's energy conservation program.

Travers' letter, based on a draft proposed by Councilman Hal Bailin, stressed the possible effects of Ford's program on the city of Upland.

According to the letter the council understands the need for energy conservation but feels deep concern about the "extreme financial hardship" that would be caused by full implementation of the program.

Meeting increased fuel prices will cause "deprivation in other areas of already stretched budgets," the letter noted. The program will create a "financial debacle" for the cities which can be solved only by "eliminating or curtailing vital services."

Travers said services that might have to be cut include street sweeping, tree trimming and police patrols. The city might not be able to expand fire protection as the city grows, he added.

The extent services would be cut depends on how the price of fuel escalates, Travers said.

"We've already had some crimps in what we thought we would be able to do," she said, adding that the city had had to postpone Civic Center landscaping and development of Citrus Park.

Councilmen George Gibson and John McCarthy and Councilwoman Ina Petokas indicated concern with prices but said they hesitated to advise the President.

"Mrs. Petokas said it would be 'presumptuous' for the council to criticize without offering an alternate plan."

McCarthy suggested the letter emphasize the program's effects on Upland and said Ford and his advisors may not be aware of the full effect on cities.

In other action Monday night, the council:

—Postponed action until Feb. 18 on a proposed tract map of 64 lots between 15th and 16th streets west of San Antonio Ave. The delay will allow the developer and an adjacent land owner "to resolve street improvements in an equitable manner."

—Authorized joint filing with San Bernardino County of an application for federal community development funds. Mrs. Petokas dissented and said, "I have a feeling we're getting into something deep...We may be required to fulfill other steps causing us to spend additional money."

—Authorized Travers to write a letter to the county board of supervisors indicating the council opposes a change from M-1 to M-2 zoning in an area northwest of the city. Mrs. Petokas said that M-2 zoning would allow heavy industrial development detrimental to that section of Upland. Bailin dissented from the move and said the council should have more information about proposed development before taking a position on the issue.

—Referred to the League of California Cities a proposal by the United States Postal Service to require curbside mail boxes in all new housing tracts. Council members noted that curbside boxes would be a safety hazard and a focal point for vandalism.

—Directed the city staff to investigate the practicality of instituting earthquake insurance underwritten by the federal government.

Don Ham to edit Upland News

New editor appointed

Don Ham, 25, is the new editor of Bonita Publishing Company's six weekly papers including the Upland News, Cucamonga Times and Montclair Tribune. He replaces Steve Mann who has become copy editor at the Ontario Daily Report.

Most recently Ham worked on the Daily Republic in Fairfield, Calif. as a reporter and news announcer for a cable television station.

Previously, he worked for Bonita Publishing Co. for 1½ years, much of that time as reporter-photographer for the Upland News, Cucamonga Times and Montclair Tribune. He graduated from California State Polytechnic University, Pomona with a bachelor of science in communication arts.

Ham said the job of the weekly papers is to communicate important news items affecting the community and to inform readers of public services.

Weekly papers also should present features of interest to local readers, he said. A person should be able to discover everything happening in the community by looking at the front page, he added.

Ham's goals for the weeklies include developing definite sections for entertainment, church news, features and food. After reading the front page, people will be able to turn to the section they're interested in, he said. "You can learn more in Journalism than in any other field," he said. "It regularly features all aspects of living — science, arts, sociology."

His future plans are to write science fiction as well as nonfiction. Science fiction topics he would like to explore include the effect of scientific advancements on the social and ethical lives of people.

Another topic that interests him is how personalities change under different ethical and social systems. He plans to write nonfiction to consider the problems that will occur in the future. "Speculative writing helps people recognize and prevent problems," he said.

His wife Jeanne will attend California State University at Fullerton. She is a speech therapy major.

Ham's hobbies include tennis, basketball and handball, but his favorite pastime is daydreaming. Daydreaming, he said, is relaxing and helps him absorb new ideas, ask questions and figure out answers he wouldn't have time for otherwise.

"The most important thing is to be aware of the things going on around me, inside of me and inside of others," he said. "People live for the sake of living and should enjoy the experience as much as possible," he added.

To help members of the community know what's going on around them, he offered a few suggestions on how to make good use of their newspapers.

All church news should be sent to the Church Editor at Bonita Publishing Co., P. O. Box 593, Ontario 91764 and should be received by Monday noon for Thursday publication.

Other news releases should be sent to the local news offices and should arrive by Thursday noon the week before publication. For most events that is 10-14 days before the event occurs, he noted.

Publicity photos should be arranged 2-2½ weeks before publication.

If groups follow these deadlines, the papers will be able to cover events more fully, Ham said.

NEW EDITOR - Don Ham and secretary Mary Wiles look over one of six weekly newspapers published by the Donrey Media Group in the Pomona Valley area. Ham replaces Steve Mann as editor of The Upland News, The Montclair Tribune, The Cucamonga Times, The Bulletin, The San Dimas Press and The La Verne Leader.

Agencies seek to aid river quality

The Santa Ana Watershed Project Authority, a regional agency responsible for the implementation of projects for water quality control and protection, and pollution in the Santa Ana River Watershed, is now fully represented by each of the four major water districts responsible for basin management within the watershed.

Chino Basin Municipal Water District, Orange County Water District, San Bernardino Valley Municipal Water District and Western Municipal Water District first joined forces in 1967 by forming the Santa Ana Watershed Planning Agency. The primary purpose of the Planning Agency was to create a public entity which would conduct a water quality management program study for the Santa Ana River Watershed.

This combined effort of the four districts culminated in the preparation of a comprehensive report entitled, "Water Quality Control Plan Report, Santa Ana River Basin," which was presented to the State Water Resources Control Board and the Regional Water Quality Control Board, Santa Ana Region, in October, 1974.

The report established several water quality projects essential for the improvement of water quality in the Santa Ana River Watershed. With the completion of the planning function, the Planning Agency officially went out of business. However, the member districts had previously decided to form an implementation entity to carry out those plan elements which encompass more than one district or have watershed-wide impacts.

The implementation agency, the Project Authority, was formed in February, 1973, by two of the water districts, Orange County Water District and Chino Basin Municipal Water District (CBMWD). The Project Authority has been governed by a four-member commission representing these two districts since its inception. Chairman of the commission is Carl B. Masingale from Chino Basin Municipal Water District (CBMWD). Other commission members are Ray W. Ferguson of CBMWD and Robert L. Clark and August F. Lenain, both directors of the Orange County Water District.

The addition of San Bernardino Valley Municipal Water District and Western Municipal Water District on December 16, 1974, and December 18, 1974, respectively, to the Project Authority represents a pledge for mutual financial and technological support from upstream and downstream agencies along the Santa Ana River dedicated to the improvement of the quality of the river. Thus, these four districts are continuing their efforts for comprehensive and coordinated management of water quantity and quality within the Santa Ana River Watershed.

The commission is made up of two members of each member district. The respective district governing board appoints two commissioners to represent them to the Project Authority. Commissioners may either be elected members of the respective boards, or their General Manager, Jack Beaver, General manager, and Lloyd Yount, chairman of the SBVMD board, represent that district. From Western Municipal, John Myline Jr., board president, and Howard Hicks, general manager, are the SAWPA commissioners. Chairman Masingale welcomed the San Bernardino and Western commissioners.

Commission meetings are scheduled for the last Tuesday of each month at 10 a.m. Location of meetings rotate among the four member district board rooms. The public is invited to these meetings. Information on each meeting is available at 682-6080, or at the commission offices at 7150 Brockton Ave., Riverside.

The new edition of your telephone directory is going to press soon. If you have only a single listing, a lot of people are going to have trouble looking up other members of your family. Certainly, your wife deserves her own listing. And giving a teen-ager a place in the directory is a nice way of saying "You're growing up." To add or change a listing just call our business office. They can tell you how little extra an additional listing will cost. It's as easy as picking up the phone.

Student senators pass bill

Speeches by Secretary of State March Fong and Lt. Gov. Mervyn Dymally, along with an appearance by Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr., have been highlights of the Young Men's Christian Association's (YMCA) 27th session of the Youth In Government Model Legislature.

According to Charles McPherson, the West End YMCA's youth newspaper correspondent, a bill to ban aerosol cans submitted by the West End's 12 member delegation was passed through the model senate with a unanimous vote and will be sent to the model assembly.

The model bill, said McPherson, prohibits the use of aerosol spray cans because of the adverse effects their gases have on health and the environment.

If the model bill is passed by the youth legislators and signed by their governor, McPherson said, it will be sent to the California state legislature to determine if it is worthy of actual legislation.

Other than McPherson, West End representatives taking part in the program are Jim Starcher, assemblyman; Rick Hurlbert, aide; John Delrosa, aide; Sue Johnson, senator; Randy Nelson, assemblyman; Doug Hankins, advocate; Dianne Evans, assemblyman; Dennis Smeal, supreme court justice; Lori Crampton, advocate; Linda Whoretton, and Becky Cardon, aide.

Advisors with the group are W. Alcon, Todd Carter and Pat Flack, YMCA director, according to McPherson.

The model legislature will stay in session until Sunday afternoon.

Another speaker will be Nate Jackson, coordinator of special services at El Camino College, at 1 p.m. on Feb. 11 in the little theater.

On the agenda will be the following speakers and their topics: Priscilla Brandt, R.N., "Fragrance of Beauty"; Lorena Power, "Being the Person God Wants You to Be"; Mary Korstjens, "Motherhood Can Be Beautiful"; JoAnne Fitzgibbons, "Preview of Beauty Trends for the Next Ten Years"; Beverly Hutchinson, "Nutrition for Beauty"; and Mrs. Brandt and Charlene Powell, "Understanding Men."

OMSD students get special vision exams

Parents, two doctors and district personnel worked together last week to give thorough eye examinations to 895 Ontario-Montclair School District children who would not normally have been tested.

Organized by the district's Federal Projects nurse, Tina Williams, the project originated because of a desire to detect visual problems in children before permanent eye damage resulted.

Last week's examinations, more comprehensive than most district administered tests, checked children in five areas: Visual acuity, eye coordination, color blindness, depth perception and organic problems.

"Though Federally funded under Title I, the examination could not have been successful without volunteer help," Mrs.

Williams emphasized. "There were only two doctors and we were completely overwhelmed until Hazel Hiebert, the district's parent advisory coordinator, brought in parent volunteers."

Martha Gailey to study art

The second art center Saturday class scholarship has been awarded by the Alta Loma High School Art department to Martha Gailey, a senior.

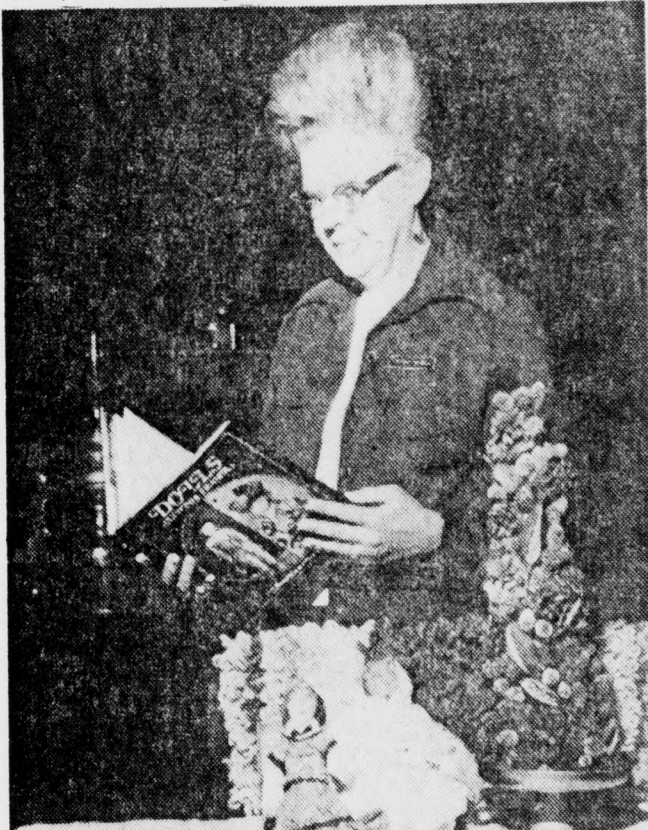

The scholarship entitles her to attend a session of ten Saturday morning classes at the Art Center College of Design in Los Angeles. The instructors at the art center are professionals in their fields.

The Saturday class scholarships are a service given by the art center to area high schools. Three scholarships per school year are given each school to be awarded at the school's discretion.

Class is set; learn stenotype

As a result of many requests Chaffey College Community Education has scheduled another beginning stenotype class to start Feb. 11. The class will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays in the old library building, 123 E. "D" Street in Upland, from 7 to 10 p.m. Instructor is Louise Gurich.

Court reporting is one of the lesser-known professions. The population growth of the country has resulted in a steady increase in the work of the courts and governmental agencies, and in expanding business and commercial activities.

BACK TO THE BASICS - Chaffey Communities Cultural Center Museum will hold a show 2-4 p.m. Sunday to demonstrate such basic crafts as carding, spinning and weaving. Also shown will be objects made from recycled materials including these dolls of old nylons made by Carolyn Daniel, shag rugs crocheted by Corynne Hanzlik from left-over yarn and a tree made from local materials. Mrs. Hanzlik browses through a book that includes helpful information on crafts. The museum is at 525 W. 18th St., Upland.

Upland man

Jacob H. Jager selected court commissioner

Jacob H. Jager of Upland has been selected to serve as superior court commissioner to succeed Willis T. Lyman who recently has been appointed judge of the Colton Justice Court.

Presiding Judge Richard C. Garner indicated that Jager will commence his duties as commissioner on Feb. 18. His duties will generally include the hearing of domestic relations, probate and juvenile court matters.

Jager is a lifelong resident of San Bernardino County. He resides in Upland with his wife and three children. For the last four years, he has practiced law as a partner in the firm of Moran, Nuss & Jager of Pomona. He is a member of the California, San Bernardino and Western San Bernardino County Bar Associations, as well as several specialty bars.

Jager previously was an officer of the Chino Police Department and for 13 years thereafter, a supervising special investigator of the State Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control. In that capacity, he acted as counsel for the state in administrative hearings as an advocate with opposing counsel.

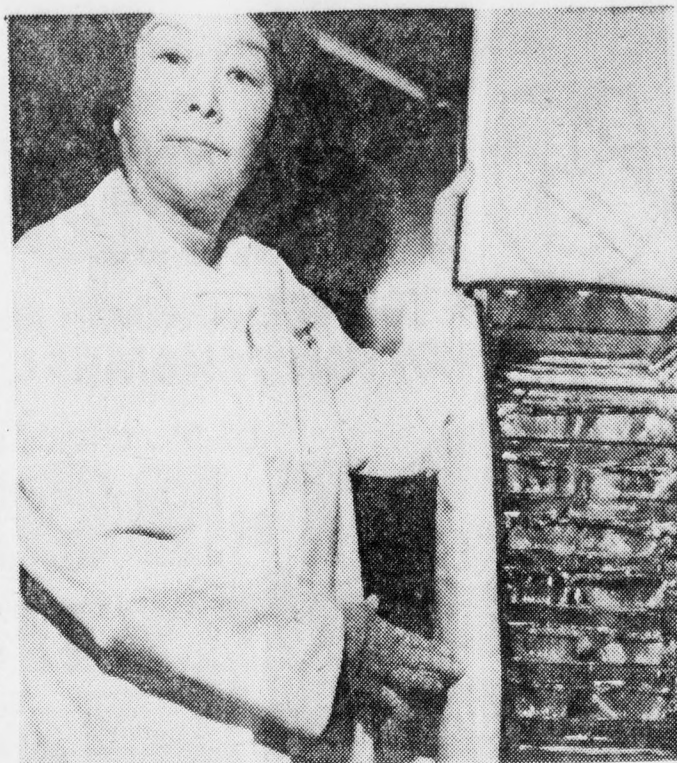

He graduated from Chino High School in 1952 and later attended college at Mt. San Antonio College, San Bernardino Valley College and Citrus College of Azusa before obtaining his law degree from LaSalle University in 1970.

Judge Garner indicated that the judges were very pleased to appoint Mr. Jager as commissioner.

Bethels host visitors

Three bethels of the International Order of Job's Daughters recently met at the Upland Masonic Temple to host the official visit of Jennie Amundsen, grand guardian of the State of California and past bethel guardian of Bethel 143, San Gabriel, and John Tolbert, associate grand guardian and a past associate bethel guardian of Bethel 352 of El Dorado.

There were 200 members and visitors at the event. The bethels represented were: Bethel 33, San Bernardino; Bethel 287, Upland; and Bethel 301, Claremont.

There are 347 bethels in California and the grand guardian is required to visit all during the year, so generally, two to seven bethels join together for the official visit.

Grand officers attending were: Madge Lowry, grand guide; Bonnie Brown, Mary Prater, Laura Boyens, Grace Olufsen, LaVonne Rainey and Nell Houghton, all past associate grand guardians; Robert Sherwood, Anaheim; and David Brown, Santa Ana.

Honored queens presiding were: Vikki Taylor, Claremont; Mary Anne Moore, San Bernardino; and Susan Sutton, Upland.

Escorted and introduced were Ruth Adams, Ruth Hagoes, David Decker and Joseph W. Negus Sr., all leaders in order of the Eastern Star or Masonic related organizations.

"Love Makes the World Go 'Round" was the theme for the program. The bethel girls sang the song and presented Mrs. Amundsen and Tolbert each with a music box which plays the same song.

Chairman of parks board announced

In a recent ceremony, Geno Gasponi has become the chairman of the county Regional Parks Advisory Commission. As former vice chairman, he succeeds Mrs. Erna Schuiling of San Bernardino, who led the commission in a five-year term.

Gasponi, a Yucaipa businessman, represents Supervisor Dennis Hansberger on the commission. In addition to his regional park duties, Gasponi serves as director of the Yucaipa Valley Water District and is a board member of the California State Parks and Recreation Association. In accepting his new post, Gasponi paid tribute to Mrs. Schuiling, citing a number of Regional Park accomplishments during her term.

The organization's in-coming vice chairman is Betty Hendersen of Ontario, who represents Supervisor Daniel D. Mikesell on the commission. The remaining members are Levi H. Dickey of Chino and Mrs. Virnita McDonald of Twentynine Palms.

The advisory board, now beginning its sixth year, is comprised of five lay members, one from each supervisorial district. Its purpose is to provide a liaison with the general public and to recommend policy regarding development and operation of the Regional Parks Department.

Chino attorney Gene Demchuk has been named to the Air Pollution Control District hearing board.

Demchuk, a partner in the law firm of Maroney, Demchuk and Brandt, is a former San Bernardino County deputy district attorney and is currently the city attorney for Montclair and Loma Linda.

The hearing board is empowered to grant variances to stationary sources of air pollution if it is convinced the source cannot meet standards because of a lack of available technology or because the company is making adequate progress toward a solution of its emissions problem.

The hearing board is made up of one engineer, one attorney, one doctor and two citizens.

'Godspell' at S.B. civic

SAN BERNARDINO — "Godspell," the international hit show now in rehearsals for San Bernardino Civic Light Opera's Feb. 14 opening, will feature a cast of young performers described by Jack Bunch, according to C. Dale Jenks, Civic Light Opera general manager.

"Godspell," which broke box office records during its three-year New York run, opens for a limited engagement, Feb. 14-22, at the California Theatre of Performing Arts in San Bernardino.

Bunch, who directed such stars as Martha Raye, Nanette Fabray, and Howard Keel, is enthusiastic about his stars in "Godspell." "These young performers, some of whom appeared in the Broadway production, are the stars of tomorrow," said Bunch. As for the show itself, Bunch feels "Godspell" will leave Inland Empire audiences dazzled by its richness and beauty. "It's an exhilarating musical that will appeal to everyone who sees it," he added.

The award-winning musical won for its composer-lyricist Stephen Schwartz the Drama Desk Award, the Variety Critics' Poll, a Billboard Trendsetter Award, and the National Theatre Arts Conference Award. Adding to the long list of awards was a Grammy given to the "Godspell" cast album for the best musical score, which includes the haunting "Day By Day."

Tickets for "Godspell" are now on sale and can be purchased at the Civic Light Opera Box Office, 2079 N. E. St., San Bernardino, phone 882-2545.

Tales told by the dead

POMONA — A roomful of characters, all of whom are dead, telling the stories of their lives amidst jets of vapor filling the stage — such is the substance of the California State Polytechnic University, Pomona winter mainstage production, "Steambath." This contemporary fantasy by playwright Bruce J. Friedman, will have eight weekend performances at the university theater: Friday and Saturday, Feb. 14-15; Thursday through Saturday, Feb. 20-22; and Thursday through Saturday, Feb. 27-March 1. Curtain time is 8 p.m. According to the director Dr. Robert L. Gilbert, who is also coordinator of the drama department, "Steambath," like many another play about the "afterlife," is in reality about this life. The dramatic situation is what medieval theater called The Day of Judgment theme, wherein Man is called by God to account for his life. In "Steambath" purgatory is — a steam-bath — and it is in this setting that mankind spends his final hours before moving on.

Reservations may be made by calling 714/598-4549.

The "Wild Hickory Nuts," a bluegrass group, will perform at the 22nd annual Harmony Concert "Barbershop Goes Vaudeville," sponsored by the Pomona Valley Chapter SPEBSQSA. The group consists of Dennis Fetchet, playing fiddle and mandolin; Bill Carter, bass; Bob Fralley, guitar; and Craig Smith, banjo and guitar. They will appear at Gardiner Spring Auditorium at Chaffey High School, Friday and Saturday, Feb. 14 and 15 at 7:58 p.m. For ticket information call 982-9583.

Committee eyes water management plan

Members of the Chino Basin Advisory Committee for a water management plan discussed legislative changes made in a gross pump tax bill scheduled to go before the State Senate Agriculture and Water Committee Feb. 18 during a local meeting Thursday.

Still in the process of organizing itself, the newly formed committee of basin water interests will be responsible for six months or more of intensive negotiations in completing a workable basin-wide water management plan.

Members of the committee began to break down into subcommittees to handle different areas of concern. These include safe yield studies and trying to obtain outside funds to supplement those raised in the basin to finance the project. The proposed pump tax bill of $2 per acre foot for a period of three years is presently doing well in Sacramento, according to Don Stark, special attorney brought in to handle negotiations and conduct meetings.

The majority of changes made by the state to the bill submitted by the basin water interests have been technical only, said Stark. Only one change presently made, he informed the water representatives, affects the bill to any appreciable degree.

State water pumping interests in the basin, primarily the prisons in Chino, will be exempted from the tax.

Stark said state representatives' reasoning for the exemption is that the purpose of the tax is to conduct studies in the basin for the purpose of developing a good water management plan. Since the state maintains its own legal and engineering staffs which could help carry out the studies it doesn't want to help pay for work it could do itself.

Members of the committee approved the change but indicated they would like to contact state representatives after the bill has passed.

With proper negotiations, committee members suggested, state authorities might consent to be taxed during the last two years if they are given enough time to include the expenses in their yearly budgets.

Members of the committee reviewed a list of studies staff members felt would have to be investigated before determining the most desirable method of managing the basin.

Proposed preliminary topics of investigation included safe yield studies, verification of production levels studies, experimental recharge of the basin, direct use of imported water studies, studies on the effects of pumping patterns and imported water on basin water quality and effects on the basin of a newly enacted Federal Safe Drinking Water Act.

In addition, studies will be conducted to determine the best way of financing basin management on a long term basis, the effects of water management on environmental concerns and land use planning in the basin and economic model studies to see how estimated future water prices and conditions will affect differing community factors such as agriculture.

San Dimas Wesleyan Church

'Gospel Road' to air

The story is old, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film "The Gospel Road" to be shown 6 p.m. Sunday at the San Dimas Wesleyan Church, 125 Gladstone Ave., San Dimas.

The Gospel Road, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way.

The film is a unique blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs and a series of in-depth character portrayals, with Israel itself as the mixing bowl.

You are there, walking beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee; you are there, seeing Him in many human situations that establish a practical and personal rapport with every viewer. You are there, being introduced to the disciples, and gaining insights into their varied personalities. You are there, experiencing the highly charged emotional impact of the trial before Pilate, and becoming so personally involved that you feel sympathetic pain when Robert Elstrom, in an outstanding portrayal of Christ, suffers the physical attack that precedes the crucifixion.

Adding to the effectiveness of "The Gospel Road" in its endeavor to convey reality for this day are: the fascinating treatment of the crucifixion, making this tragedy an event of significance that reaches from its own time across the years to take on meaning for all men of all ages; and the songs and background music of Johnny Cash and other outstanding musicians, whose contemporary style is not out of keeping with the story...a story that reveals that His darkest day has become our brightest.

Brant Baker to speak in Upland

Brant Baker, 26-year-old "firebrand" minister, spearhead of the Shalimar Fellowship, based in Long Beach, is slated to be in the Upland Foursquare Church, 205 No. Campus St., 7:30 p.m. today. His spiritual-awakening service will embrace divine healing ministry, said the Rev. Vivian Twyford, pastor.

According to the dynamic young preacher's associate,

Rev. Stephen L. Boyd, young Baker will be accompanied by a more than 100-voice choir and orchestra of musical youth, who also assist him in prayer. Native of Santa Monica, and convert to Christianity in Billy Graham's 1964 San Diego crusade, Brant can be seen each Thursday 8:30 p.m. on KHOF-TV, channel 30, and 8:30 p.m. each Friday and Sunday on KLXA, channel 40.

Christian Church launches new year

Ramona Avenue Christian Church of San Dimas Sunday launched the new year with recognition of appointments to the Pastor's Cabinet. This cabinet is composed of chairmen of all functional departments which serve as the planning body for program.

New leaders are Ethelwyne Russell, worship; Helen Rorex, christian education; Winna Carter, membership and evangelism; Leslie Caffey, missions and benevolence; Don Haefler, stewardship and finance; Guff Rorex, house and grounds; Mildred Whitworth, public relations; Cherie Degen, youth and two members-at-large, Betty Bradstreet and Sharon Judevine.

The President of the congregation is Jim Balthrope.

Milton Hay, pastor, plans to begin a series of sermons through the Lenten Season giving emphasis to two major themes: February 2-26, the Christian Church joins other Protestant churches in "One Great Hour of Sharing" through the "Week of Compassion." The gifts raised are to be shared among hundreds of projects in needy parts of the world.

The sermons leading up to Feb. 26 will be built upon selected passages from the gospels: John 13:34-35; Luke 4:18-19; Luke 10:29-37; and Matthew 25:35-36.

The second theme from March 2 through Easter will be on events in the last week of Jesus' life on earth and the resurrection. Worship begins at 10:45 a.m. and nursery and child care are provided.

A class in the study of the scriptures and issues concerning faith and practice is taught by the pastor 9:30 each Sunday in the Fireside room.

The Book of Hebrews revealing Christ as divine and human and extending a call to faith is being studied this spring. The pastor is enrolled in the Master of Arts in Religion program at the School of Theology at Claremont.

'Alleluia' musical set at Brethren In Christ

"Alleluia," a special musical presentation written by Bill and Gloria Gaiter and Ron Huff, will be presented at the Upland Brethren In Christ Church 7:30 p.m. Saturday and 10:45 a.m. Sunday.

The presentation includes 100 singers and 35 instrumentalists from the Upland Brethren In Christ Church, the Glendora Nazarene Church and Azusa Pacific College, as well as several professional musicians. The conductor for the local presentation is Al Clift.

instructor of music at Azusa Pacific College.

"Alleluia" is a service of praise for "what God has done in the lives of those who believe on Him. It is more than just lyrics and notes of a musical production. It is an attitude, a spirit," said Larry Martin, pastor.

Area residents are invited to attend the free presentation. The Upland Brethren In Christ Church is located on the corner of Arrow Highway and San Antonio.

SPRITELY SCOT - Piper Evan MacKay (left) provided rhythm for the lively dances of Lisa Sprague, age 11, who enlivened the Scottish program held last week at San Dimas Community Church.

Church of the Brethren

'Jonah and the Whale' to air

"Jonah and the Whale," an original composition by Mark and Mike Waters, will be presented at the Feb. 9 worship service of the La Verne Church of the Brethren.

The brothers were inspired to write the musical after hearing "The Saint Judas Passion" by Steve Engel, music director at the local church, in the fall of 1972. Neither had composed before but Engel suggested they attempt something revolving around the story of Jonah.

Working together on both lyrics and music, they created a work which contains 16 songs, including "A Tale of a Whale and Jonah," "Excuses, Excuses," "Out of the Whale," and "The Wicked King of Ninevah."

The message of the musical, the boys said, "is that Jonah was mad at God because God did not destroy the sinning Ninevah. But Jonah learned that God will forgive your sin."

Engel has been helpful to the young musicians and has prepared orchestrations for their work.

"Formal training for the brothers Waters is scant. Mark had a few weeks of guitar lessons, but does not read music. Mike took a few piano lessons," said Minister Leland Wilson.

The boys have written several folk songs for a youth group, "The Funky Prunes." Mike, 17, is a junior at Bonita High School. Mark, 14, is in the eighth grade at Ramona Intermediate School.

HEALTH NEWS

Don't Let Your Accident Penalize You For Life

By DR. W. P. HELZER, D.C.

By Dr. W. P. Helzer, D.C.
Rear-end auto collisions are the most frequent cause of cervical spine injuries according to clinical studies.

Approximately 85 per cent of the cervical spine disorders were the results of auto crashes.

Only about 15 per cent of these crash injuries resulted from head-on or side collisions.

The amount of damage to the crashing auto is not a reliable indicator of the damage to the passengers. Most cervical disorders start with sprains, and most sprains are caused by the action of the 8 to 12 pound human head as it snaps backward during a rear-end crash.

This head snapping action can produce an impressive variety of muscle tears, ligament stretching and damage to the backbone, particularly the fourth, fifth and sixth vertebrae.

The position of the head and neck at the time the force is applied determines to some extent the site of the injury. The structures which are relaxed may receive less injury than those which are taut or on stretch.

Thus, injury in a side collision may be to the side of the neck opposite the impact, and then to the opposite side.

Sprained or torn ligaments and capsules result in a traumatic inflammatory reaction with minute hemorrhages and continued, even prolonged, blood leakage. The inflammation may persist for months or years.

The eventual outcome is a reparative response, and injury results most often in scarring which is the usual residual or tissue damage.

Tissue repair in the cervical area is slow, probably because of the meager blood supply. Under ideal circumstances, the usual healing time is six to eight weeks.

The scar tissue which forms is less elastic than normal tissue, which means there may be continued neck stiffness.

People involved in all auto accidents, particularly if they have been of the rear-end variety, are urged to contact a Doctor of Chiropractic for a complete examination.

To put it simply, to ignore whiplash is to play with fire.

(Note: Dr. Helzer maintains chiropractic offices at 108 East H Street, Ontario, telephone: 983-1711.)

'Measured local service'

New telephone billing starts in April

General Telephone of California will begin a new way of billing its customers for local calls in the Los Angeles metropolitan area starting in April.

Residents and businesses in Ontario, Pomona, Etiwanda and the East San Gabriel Valley are considered part of the metropolitan dialing area, according to Jack M. King, area public affairs administrator for the utility.

Known as "measured local service," the new billing procedure is available on an optional basis for residential customers beginning April 1. There will be no charge for the changeover for customers switching to this service during the first 90 days.

All business customers of General Telephone will be converted to the new local call billing method on a non-optional basis on May.

King said General was ordered to offer measured local service (MLS) by the California Public Utilities Commission as part of an overall rate case decision on Nov. 26 of last year. "We were ordered to offer MLS in the L.A. metropolitan area within six months," King said. "At the same time, the company was told to explore the feasibility of offering within the next five years."

Optional measured local service for residential customers is aimed at supplying a low cost service to customers with limited local calling requirements. Today, residential customers pay $5.75 per month for one-party flat rate service which gives them unlimited calling—both in terms of time and numbers of calls—in their local and extended service area.

Under optional MLS, the customer would pay $3 monthly for an allowance of 30 local calling units and five cents for each additional unit over the allowance.

Seniors' leaders decry proposed cutbacks

"He's attacking the people who are probably in the worst condition of any segment of our society."

The statement is typical of local senior citizen leaders' reactions to an announcement that President Ford will ask Congress to approve further spending cuts in government aid for older Americans.

It was made by John Piazza, director of the United Steelworkers' Old Timers Foundation which provides meals, transportation and other services to senior citizens in Fontana.

A report from Washington D.C. indicates that the aged will be asked to absorb cuts in aid for transportation, meals and other services.

"How does he assume they will get around?" Piazza asked rhetorically.

"What happens when you isolate a person in that manner is that he has to buy at the higher priced corner grocery store and he can't get to the doctor's office and the hospital," Piazza said.

Celesta Walters, chairperson of the Ontario Senior Citizens Affairs Commission, said,

"People have to get to their doctors' offices and they have to have meals... With housing and loneliness, these are the greatest problems of senior citizens."

Roger Sagoupe, West End representative of Plan Action for Senior Citizens, said many senior citizen illnesses stem from malnutrition.

"When people are alone, they don't cook properly," he said.

At an Ontario nutrition center which provides noontime hot meals for senior citizens, manager Vera Carlton said her patrons were "just sick" about the President's announcement.

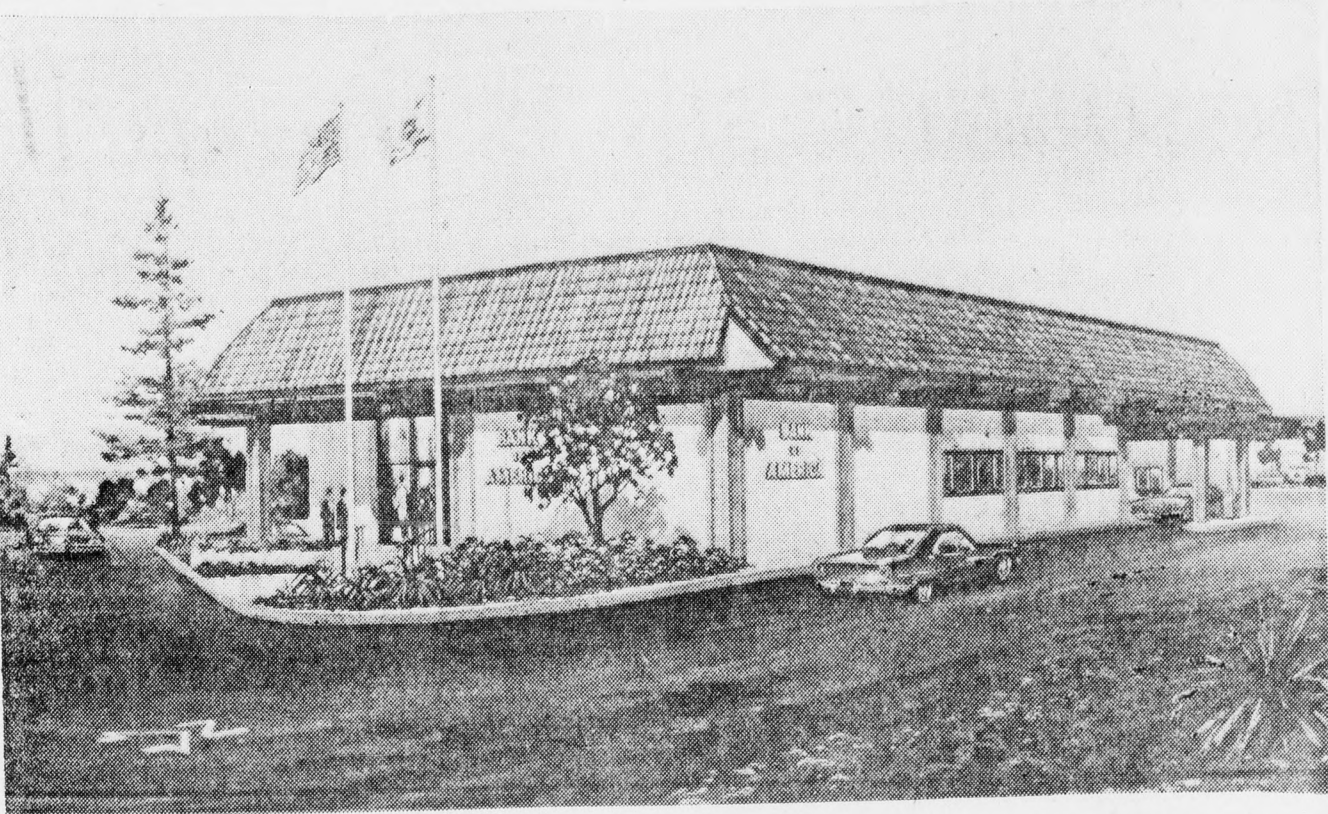

She said the center, which opened in March, provided 701 hot meals last week.

The donations for the meals are "practically nothing" though "some are proud and feel they have to pay something or they won't eat," she said. Some said the President should instead put the emphasis on cutting the defense budget, but not all took this view.

"Defense spending is what should be cut and cut very drastically," said Claremont resident Mrs. Dwight Smith of the Gray Panthers.

Piazza said, "He should start to cut the defense budget if he wants to cut."

NEW BANK — Artist's rendering shows how the new Bank of America office, now under construction at Foothill Boulevard and Wheeler Avenue, La Verne, will look when completed in September. Part of the new La Verne West shopping center, the new $485,000 structure will contain 10,182 square feet. It will replace an existing Bank of America mobile facility open at the site since April.

Lincoln dinner planned

Dr. William S. Banowsky will speak at the Lincoln Day Dinner, being sponsored by the Republican County Central Committee at 7 p.m. Monday in the Casa Loma Room at the University of Redlands.

President of Pepperdine University and Republican National Committeeman for California, Dr. Banowsky was recently listed by Time magazine as one of America's 200 top leaders of the future.

In addition to his responsibilities with the university, Dr. Banowsky writes a regular column in a Los Angeles newspaper and hosts a weekly television program, "Inquiry" on KNBC-TV. His published works include three books: "It's a Playboy World," "The Mirror of a Movement" and "The New Generation."

Dr. Banowsky is a director of the Independent Colleges of Southern California and the National Conference of Christians and Jews, as well as the Los Angeles County Judicial Reviews Commission. He has undertaken foreign lecture and inspection tours on behalf of the United States Information Agency.

Deadline for reservations for the dinner is Friday.

Auditions open for new Gallery children's play

Auditions for the Gallery Theatre's all new "Peanut Gallery" will be held Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon at the theater, corner of C and Lemon in Ontario.

Former Muslim

Christian convert will be speaker

Madame Bilquis Sheikh (pronounced shake) will be the guest speaker for the Upland Christian Fellowship Brunch planned for 10 a.m. Thursday at Griswold's Smorgasbord in Claremont.

Madame Sheikh is from one of the leading families of Pakistan. She is the daughter of a Mawab (prince) and the wife of a former general and minister of the interior. Her family is traced as Muslim leaders in Pakistan for 700 years. She organized and led the social services work for Pakistan for several years and acted as hostess as the daughter of a cabinet minister and later as the wife of the minister of the interior.

A unique idea in children's theater, the "Peanut Gallery" will offer Saturday matinee's performed by and for the young and young-at-heart in the community.

Known and respected by world leaders, she holds the Order of the British Empire, awarded to her by the British government after World War II. Nearly seven years ago, Madame Sheikh became a Christian. Despite knowing she would be a social outcast and a cause of embarrassment to her family and friends, and possibly put to death, she remained alone in her home.

Her pastor has said of her "To me she seems to be about the greatest thing God has done for the world since John penned Revelations. The courage alone is unbelievable; her faith is like few others and after her conversion, no one ever came to her home who did not hear about the Lord Jesus Christ."

The children will open with "Androcles and the Lion" or "A Thorn in the Paw" and an all-star variety show featuring area youngsters.

Children auditioning are asked to prepare one and a half minutes of song, dance or reading. Auditions will be conducted without parents in the room and an accompanist or record player will be available.

The "Peanut Gallery" productions will be directed by Martha Leah Florence, known as Marty, a Brigham Young University graduate and veteran performer. Marty was recently seen on the stage at the Gallery as Maria in "The Sound of Music."

The "Peanut Gallery" will be a regular feature of the family entertainment policy of the little theatre in the round. Future shows will include: "The Emperor's New Clothes" and "Jack and the Beanstalk."

Alumni reunion set

The Pomona Valley Single Parents will hold the annual alumni reunion and installation at 8 p.m. Saturday at 131 W. Philadelphia St., Ontario.

Business and professional consultants will be on the agenda and a fashion show will be featured. Ann Mattina will be the mistress of ceremonies. Ann Calhoun will talk about receptions and parties, and Janet Davidson will tell about wedding cakes.

For the purpose of holding the said District Election, consolidated with the Governing Board Member Election, the precincts, polling places and election officers for this District election shall be the same precincts, polling places and election officers for the Governing Board Member Election held within said District.

At this election the following is to be voted upon:

"Shall there be authorized an increase in the revenue limit per unit of average daily attendance in the amount of Sixty Dollars ($60.00) such increase to be effective in the Bonita Unified School District for a specified period of time commencing July 1, 1975, and continuing until June 30, 1978 the revenues of which are to be used for general fund school purposes?"

"This increase would constitute an increase in the revenue limit for the school year 1975-76 from approximately Nine Hundred Sixty-Six and Fifty-Two/100 Dollars ($967.52) to approximately One Thousand Twenty-Six and Fifty-Two/100 Dollars ($1,026.52) per unit of average daily attendance."

"The proposed increase of the revenue limit of $60 per unit of average daily attendance will authorize an increase in the estimated maximum general purpose tax rate of the district in the first year 1975-76 from approximately $5.94 to $6.54 for each One Hundred Dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property."

Film rental business booms

Old movies playing in classrooms

WHAT'S THIS? The movie "King Kong" playing in a college sociology class? The same for "The Grapes of Wrath."

"Gone With the Wind" plays in American history classes. And "Tora, Tora, Tora," the film about Pearl Harbor from both sides, rolls from the reel in political science classes.

If you find that unusual, consider:

In playrooms, garages and basements across America more and more professional movies are being shown these days. Films like "The Godfather" and "2001: A Space Odyssey" — plus some oldies but goodies such as "The Wizard of Oz."

The movies for private and/or small group but noncommercial showing are the 16 millimeter kind — smaller film than 35 millimeter version used in the movie houses.

The prints are rented via arrangements between the studios and the distributor. A major distributor, Films Incorporated, is based in Wilmette, Ill., and regional offices in eight cities.

In an interview, Allen Green, vice president, told me how the renting works, who likes what, how much it costs.

He also said that business is about double what it was four years ago and that the 40 companies in the field probably rented out films for 700,000 private showings in 1974.

"In this economy," he said, "the boom in the film rental field was predictable."

"Historically, when the economy goes down, the movie business goes up."

"People have less money to take vacations and movies become the entertainment."

With movie tickets $3 in a lot of places, churches, schools and public libraries are adding up to what Green called "the fastest growing new market for us."

When a group rents movies for showing at such places or on college campuses they are not allowed to advertise to outsiders. That would be competition with neighborhood movie houses.

The rental of movies for home showing has gone up 50 per cent in the last couple of years.

"You don't need a babysitter when you have a theater party in your home," Green said.

The smaller versions of recent big hits such as "The Godfather" — can cost from $350 to $500 to rent. "A Space Odyssey" — 2001" costs around $250. But lots of oldie goodies are available for $25 or $30. Films Incorporated alone has 3,500 titles in its catalogue.

Some people show the movies on a sheet hung in basement or backyard. In the warm weather, Green's family and neighbors watch their flicks on a sheet out back. His teen-age sons, he said, "are movie nuts." Andy, 18, has seen "2001" 13 times and "claims he sees something new in it each time."

Some films and estimated rental prices, to give you an idea: Hunchback of Notre Dame, 1939, rents for $50; Guy Named Joe, 1943, goes for $30; Mutiny on the Bounty, made in 1935, rents for $65.

Also: Pride and Prejudice, 1940, has a $40 rental fee; War and Peace, out in 1956, rents for $100; Mr. Belvedere Rings the Bell, 1961, rents for $30; and Mr. Blandings Builds His Dream House, out in 1948, rents for $35.

Green made these additional points about rates among special audiences on the film rental front:

—On college campuses the rage now is Marx Brothers films. Four years ago the call was for W. C. Fields flicks. The college audiences have made a hit out of "Harold and Maude," a love story about a 20-year-old boy and a woman, 80. It is being re-issued for general distribution in regular theaters.

All night "movie orgies" are big on campus at Halloween. The fare is horror films.

—Movies glorifying war have been "a downer in the movie business."

—For retirement homes and villages movies starring Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers movies are hits. The same for those featuring Judy Garland, especially "The Wizard of Oz."

—When chaplains controlled the movies in prisons, it was Disney films and other childlike ones.

Nowadays the recreation department of the prison, usually selects movies that often feature action, sex and violence. "It's a 180 degree shift," Green said. "Someone recognizes that prisoners are human beings. Such films offer some kind of release."

Green said he is putting together a film library on American history, for showing during the bicentennial period, which will peak in 1976.

"Since the country is so ultra-sensory-oriented, we feel this is a natural way to join the celebration."

"The history of America on film will include such classics as Drums Along the Mohawk,

Red Badge of Courage and all the way up to contemporary

Winter sky featured in MSAC show

WALNUT — What would happen if a comet, or asteroid were to collide with Earth?

This month's MSAC Planetarium star show "A Comet Strikes the Earth," features the spectacular winter sky in which we see four planets: Mercury, Venus, Jupiter, and Saturn. After viewing current constellations, we are taken through the Solar System into the Asteroid zone to examine the broken chunks of celestial debris we call planetoids. What are these, and how were they formed? What are comets and how are they related to the "shooting stars" or meteors we see on a clear night?

Drive down to the Planetarium at Mt. San Antonio College and find out the answers. Telescopes will also be available after the program for viewing the sky.

Programs for "A Comet Strikes the Earth" will be held Friday evenings, Feb. 7, 14, 21, and 28 at 7 p.m.

For additional information, contact the MSAC Community Services Office, 213-339-7331 or 714-595-2211, Ext. 361.

VIENNA CHOIR BOYS — Currently on their 31st tour of North America, the Vienna Choir Boys will perform one of their traditional three-part concerts 8 p.m. Saturday in the Mt. San Antonio College Gym No. 3. For tickets, call the college community service office at (213) 595-2211, ext. 361.

Quintet to play with trombonist

The newly organized Woodwind Quintet of the Claremont Symphony Orchestra will accompany bass trombonist, Craig Ware, in a new composition especially composed for solo bass trombones by Manny Albam.

Members of the quintet are: Winifred Norton, flute; Pat Sturtevant, oboe; James Lythans, clarinet; Frank La Horgue, French horn; and Florence Strnad, bassoon.

The performance will be part of the Winter Concert of the Claremont Symphony Orchestra under the direction of George Denes, Sunday, Feb. 9, 1975, 4 p.m. at Bridges Hall of Music.
